Re : Programme Director - Insurance Core Platforms

Turning a multi-year Insurance Core Platforms roadmap into something the Board can actually track, while underwriting, claims and data teams keep operating day to day, is where programme governance either holds or breaks. QBE's ICP mandate sits exactly at that intersection.

At CNP, I rebuilt investment accounting production under Solvency II constraints for 350bn EUR in assets under management, delivering in 18 months against a hard regulatory deadline, with full sub-ledger reconciliation in place at go-live. On SimCorp Dimension and Clearwater Analytics implementations, I've worked the full cycle from design to production cutover, including vendor selection, UAT planning and data migration, the same mechanics that govern PAS or core platform replacements: sequencing, cutover risk, and keeping legacy and target systems reconciled during transition. Clearwater ran fully distributed, so hybrid delivery with dispersed teams across time zones is standard practice for me, not an adjustment.

I haven't led a policy administration system replacement directly. My core platform experience sits on the investment and finance side (SimCorp, Clearwater) rather than underwriting or claims systems, though the governance, vendor and cutover discipline transfers directly.

As a contractor who is a non-UK Tax resident, based overseas, IR35 does not apply to me.

Worth a short call to see where this could fit.
