

Programme Manager/Director - Insurance Platform Migration - UK hybrid

Re : De nouvelles offres d'emploi correspondent à vos préférences.

This programme sits at the intersection of insurance operations, a banking partner, and a legacy-to-cloud migration, and that combination is where governance discipline matters more than any single technical skill.

At CNP, I ran a €350bn platform migration end to end: automated projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and Solvency II investment reporting, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. That's the same shape of work this programme needs: a legacy system, a demanding regulatory context, and a hard deadline, with senior stakeholders on both sides who need to trust the plan before they trust the output.

At Coface, IFRS 9 was rolled out in stages over four years: successive POCs, ECL methodology, accounting schemes, UAT, and coordination with the custodian CACEIS. I also built a Data Warehouse for investments there, defining fields, table structures, and input/output controls. Four years of managing a multi-party delivery, technology teams, business owners, and an external partner, is direct preparation for keeping an insurer and a banking partner aligned on the same migration.

As senior programme director at Clearwater, I ran several parallel SaaS R to R implementations, with monthly sponsor committees at executive level and consolidated tracking of deliverables, milestones, and resources on Monday.com. That's the governance layer this role asks for: structured reporting, senior-level confidence, and a single source of truth across workstreams.

Four years at SCOR, two of them as chief transformation officer for the investment function, gave me the reinsurance and insurance domain grounding this programme calls for, alongside general insurance exposure through Mazars engagements with AXA reinsurance entities and run-off books.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience applies to the migration's current stage and its stakeholder landscape.

Best regards,
