I'm a finance transformation consultant with 25 years in insurance and banking, and I've spent the last decade implementing large-scale CPM solutions in enterprise environments. I know OneStream isn't just software—it's the backbone of modern finance operations, and I've built platforms that consolidate, plan, and report across complex, regulated organizations.

What I bring to Henderson Drake is both sides of the equation. I've architected OneStream solutions for consolidation and planning workflows across multi-entity insurance groups, then stayed hands-on through configuration, testing, and tuning. I've also spent enough time in finance teams to translate what CFOs actually need into what OneStream can deliver—and that gap is where most implementations stumble.

On a recent 18-month programme, I led the design and delivery of a full consolidation and reporting platform for a €15B+ financial services group, working across Finance, Actuarial, and Regulatory teams. We cut month-end close by 40% and built a single source of truth that killed three legacy systems. I mentored two junior consultants through that delivery, which taught me that the best implementations scale through people, not just configurations.

I'm independent now—I own Expert Zone Advisory—which means I move fast and take ownership. I'm also honest about what I don't know. I haven't worked as a permanent employee for a few years, so if you need someone embedded full-time in your delivery culture, that's worth a conversation upfront. But if you need a senior consultant who can lead workstreams, design solutions, engage stakeholders, and actually finish projects on time, I'm your person.

I'd like to talk through what your pipeline looks like and how I could add value to your CPM practice.
