I bring 25 years of hands-on experience in financial and insurance transformation, with deep expertise in regulatory reporting, PMO delivery, and complex cross-functional alignment—exactly what TNP needs for this role. I've spent my entire career at the intersection of finance, compliance, and operational delivery, where technical depth meets execution discipline.

Over the past five years, I've led mission-critical programs for major insurers: redesigning FINREP and COREP production workflows for a tier-1 insurer (reducing manual intervention by 40% and cutting reporting cycle time from 15 to 8 days), piloting integrated reporting solutions with embedded controls, and coaching finance teams through system migrations. I've built and stabilized reporting teams, owned end-to-end P&L for interim CFO mandates, and managed stakeholder alignment across IT, Risk, Actuariat, and Operations—the exact coordination TNP's clients need.

I'm currently independent as a senior consultant, which gives me the flexibility to commit fully to client-facing work and program delivery. I understand that TNP values dynamism and initiative—I thrive in that environment, particularly on high-stakes transformation where clarity and execution matter most.

I'm ready to discuss how my technical expertise and delivery track record fit your team's needs. I'm available for a conversation at your convenience.
