Re : Head of Fund Accounting and Treasury

Invesco's private markets platform needs an accounting and treasury lead who can run oversight of both an in-house team and third-party administrators while building the infrastructure to handle real estate, private equity, and private credit at scale. That combination of technical judgment, vendor governance, and delivery discipline sits squarely in the work I've done across insurance and finance for the past 25 years.

At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. That kind of build, from data structure through production, maps directly onto the scalable infrastructure and SOC-1 readiness work this role calls for. At Coface, I rolled out IFRS 9 in stages over four years: successive POCs, ECL methodology, accounting schemes, UAT, and coordination with the depositary CACEIS, alongside creating an investment Data Warehouse (fields, table structure, input and output controls). Complex transaction accounting and third-party coordination are not new territory for me; they're where I've spent most of my career. More recently, as senior programme director at Clearwater, I ran several parallel implementations of a Record-to-Report SaaS solution, with monthly sponsor committees at executive level and consolidated tracking of deliverables, milestones, and resources on Monday.com, including for a Luxembourg client, Luxempart. That work was largely remote and cross-border by design, which is how I operate day to day: comfortable running governance and stakeholder relationships across time zones and offices, and equally comfortable in a Luxembourg office four days a week once that's what the role requires.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience applies to Invesco's private markets accounting oversight.

Best regards,
