I'm a senior consultant with 25 years in insurance and finance, and I've spent the last decade doing exactly what this Programme Director role demands: translating business strategy into compliant, sustainable delivery under tight regulatory and operational constraints.

What makes me fit here: I've led end-to-end programme delivery in complex environments where technical requirements, regulatory pressure, and stakeholder alignment all move at once. At Munich Re Specialty—Global Markets, I'd own the programme lifecycle the way I have consistently done: integrated planning across target operating model and business case, Day 1 compliance thinking, transparent executive communication, and relentless focus on defined scope and benefits realisation.

Two concrete examples. I redesigned the finance operating model for a major European insurer—rebuilt closing processes, control architecture, and statutory reporting workflows across eight countries, delivering a compliant, scalable system on time and under budget while keeping CFO and Regulatory Affairs aligned at every gate. More recently, I led a multi-year PMO function for a specialty insurer during product transformation, managing parallel regulatory demands, legacy system constraints, and IT dependencies. Both showed me that success comes from clarity on what matters most, clean governance, and partnership with sponsors and executives who need to make hard calls fast.

I work best in structured environments where strategy matters and execution is measured. Right now I operate as an independent consultant, which has given me speed and range; a permanent role where I can build sustained programme discipline and culture appeals to me.

I'd welcome a conversation about how this aligns with MRS-GM's ambitions.
