

Allianz Technology

August 16, 2026

Re : Senior Controller - Strategic Projects Lead CTO-1 (m/f/d)

Allianz Technology is bringing Germany, Switzerland, and Central Europe together under a new Finance organization while running strategic projects and central demand across the region. That combination, multiple entities, senior stakeholders, and a mandate to make reporting and project work sharper with AI, is the kind of environment where I want to put 25 years in insurance and finance to work.

At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. That meant running a complex, multi-stakeholder implementation end to end, on a fixed timeline, with finance, actuarial, and IT all needing to sign off.

As senior programme director for Clearwater, I piloted several parallel implementations of a Record-to-Report SaaS solution, with monthly sponsor committees at senior management level and a consolidated view of deliverables, milestones, and resources on a dedicated tool (Monday.com), including for a Luxembourg client, Luxempart. That is close to what this role asks for: being the first point of contact for incoming demand, tracking priorities across workstreams, and keeping senior stakeholders aligned on progress.

At Coface, IFRS 9 was rolled out in stages over four years: successive POCs, ECL methodology, accounting schemes, testing, coordination with the depositary CACEIS. I also built the investment Data Warehouse there, defining the fields, table structure, and input/output controls, which is the kind of foundation that makes reporting decision-ready rather than just produced.

Certified Generative AI Primer (Vanderbilt, 2026) and GenAI for Account Executives (Yale, 2026), I now automate most of my own project work through agents under Claude or GPT, which fits directly with the role's push to use AI to simplify how the team works.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience applies to the CTO-1 Strategic Projects mandate.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille