I bring 25 years of insurance and finance experience—the exact depth most interim finance roles need but rarely find. I've spent my entire career where technical complexity, regulatory constraint, and delivery pressure collide: CFO offices, PMO governance, business transformation. That's where I add the most value.

Most recently, I rebuilt financial closing processes for a €2B+ insurance group, cutting month-end timeline by 35% while strengthening control frameworks. Before that, I led AMOA on a regulatory reporting overhaul for a major mutual—coordinating Actuariat, Finance, and IT through three major regulatory changes without a single breach. I'm comfortable both architecting solutions and rolling up sleeves on execution.

I work best on missions where clarity, discipline, and credible judgment matter more than politics. I've done this as interim FM, PMO lead, and senior business analyst. I'm not looking to become permanent—I prefer structured engagements where the scope is clear and the endpoint is defined. That focus keeps me sharp and means you get someone fully committed to the mission, not the title.
