I'm drawn to this role because it matches a rare intersection of my background: 25 years in finance and insurance, deep expertise in fund accounting and controls, and a track record delivering complex operational change under real pressure.

What you need is someone who understands fund pricing, financial reporting, and audit management not as isolated technical tasks, but as interconnected control systems. I've spent the last decade doing exactly that—redesigning closing processes, embedding control frameworks, and managing the interface between investment teams, administrators, and external auditors. I've led similar transitions where governance and accounting standards had to be harmonized across multiple entities and fund structures.

Concrete example: I restructured the financial reporting operating model for a €2B+ insurance portfolio, consolidating pricing and account management across 12 segregated mandates and three external administrators. The project reduced month-end close time by 35%, eliminated three separate audit findings, and created repeatable controls that survived a full regulatory audit. I worked directly with portfolio managers and compliance to embed new accounting models on new deals—the same proactive embedding work your role demands.

One honest point: I work primarily as an independent consultant. I'm built for 6-month focused assignments where clarity and accountability matter. That aligns perfectly with your contract structure and hybrid model. I'm based in France but have worked regularly in London and EU financial centers.

I'm ready to step in and take full ownership of fund control and reporting from day one. Happy to discuss the specifics of your fund portfolio and current control gaps.
