

Xavier Robitaille · xro@xavier-robitaille.com · +33 6 64 89 09 43

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express interest in the Senior Consultant Accounting & Regulatory Advisory position in Berlin. My background positions me well for this role: 25 years in insurance and finance, with deep expertise in regulatory reporting, process optimization, and financial controls—precisely what your Financial Services team needs.

Over the past decade, I've worked on transformation programs where accounting standards and regulatory requirements intersect with operational delivery. At a major French insurer, I redesigned the closing process across three entities, embedding new IFRS 17 rules into workflows and reducing month-end cycle time by 30%. I also built the governance framework for a regulatory reporting overhaul affecting 15+ local teams, ensuring compliance while cutting manual controls by 40%. These aren't isolated projects; they reflect how I work: I translate complex regulation into clear process design, align stakeholders across Finance, Risk, and Operations, and deliver measurable results on schedule.

What distinguishes this background is the combination. I understand both the technical landscape—accounting, actuarial modeling, regulatory frameworks—and how to execute change in large, constraint-heavy environments. I've done advisory work across 15+ institutions and spent periods inside CFO offices managing large-scale programs. I bring discipline to delivery without losing sight of the business impact for your clients.

There's one honest gap: I've worked primarily as an interim consultant and business owner, not in a traditional consulting firm structure. That said, I'm drawn to Deloitte precisely because of its scale, methodology, and reach across the Fortune 500. I'm ready to apply my expertise within a larger team and bring the execution rigor you expect.

I'm based in the Paris region, relocating to Berlin works for the right opportunity.

I'd welcome the chance to discuss how my experience in regulatory advisory and financial transformation can add value to your Financial Services practice.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille
+33 6 64 89 09 43
xro@xavier-robitaille.com