Re : Interim Finance Manager

Protecting business-as-usual finance delivery while a merger reshapes the organisation around it, and doing so alongside actuarial, controller and CFO stakeholders who each have different priorities: that's the real test in this brief, not the reporting pack itself.

I've run exactly this kind of dual-track delivery before. At CNP, I rebuilt investment accounting production under Solvency II constraints, covering €350bn in assets, while the migration to a new GL was still live: 18 months, delivered on time, with month-end close never missed during the transition. On the controls side, I've owned balance sheet assurance and audit coordination in environments where suspense accounts and reconciliation gaps were the main risk to statutory sign-off, clearing backlogs while keeping the monthly cycle running. That combination, BAU ownership plus project load, without one degrading the other, is the pattern this role asks for.

Reinsurance recoveries accounting isn't a direct part of my background; my technical accounting depth sits more on the investment and credit side, including IFRS 9 ECL work, than on treaty-level reinsurance.

Hybrid working is standard practice for me. At Clearwater I ran cross-border teams remotely with no loss of delivery pace, so three days a week in London poses no issue. As a contractor who is a non-UK Tax resident, based overseas, IR35 does not apply to me. Happy to walk through the CNP and Clearwater work in more detail on a call.
