

Consolidation & Group Reporting Specialist

Re : Une nouvelle offre d'emploi correspond à vos préférences.

SCOR's consolidation team produces the IFRS financial statements that shareholders, investors and top management rely on, and this role sits across mergers, transversal processes and the Half Year Report and Universal Registration Document. That combination of technical rigor and cross-team coordination is exactly where I want to apply my background.

Four years at SCOR, including two as chief transformation officer of the investment function, gave me direct exposure to how the Group's finance and reporting processes fit together under pressure, including the discipline required around closing deadlines and audit trails. Before that, at CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting on 350 billion euros in assets, running the SimCorp Dimension implementation from design to go-live in 18 months. At Coface, I rolled out IFRS 9 in stages over four years, building the ECL methodology, accounting entries, testing and coordination with the depositary CACEIS, and created a Data Warehouse for investments covering field definitions, table structure and input/output controls. Consolidation tools and IFRS mechanics are close cousins of this work: the same need for traceable logic, clean data lineage and defensible numbers under audit.

I also bring the reporting-tool side of finance transformation. As senior programme director at Clearwater, I ran several SaaS R to R implementations in parallel, with monthly sponsor committees at senior management level and consolidated tracking of deliverables, milestones and resources through Monday.com, including for Luxempart. That experience translates directly to the Finance tool projects mentioned in this role, where consolidation requirements, test validation and change management need one person who can hold the whole picture.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience applies to the consolidation team's current priorities.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille
