Re : Finance Manager - Family Office (Remote)

A family office growing across the UK, Continental Europe and the US, with real estate, operating businesses and other private investments, needs a finance function built from scratch: month-end close across multiple entities and jurisdictions, reconciliations from multiple data sources, and reporting that shifts from bookkeeping oversight toward controlling and management reporting over the next 12 to 18 months. That build is where I add value, drawing on 25 years in insurance and in finance.

At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. The same discipline applies here: getting a finance function's data and reporting right while the underlying business keeps growing.

At Coface, I rolled out IFRS 9 in stages over four years: POC cycles, ECL methodology, accounting schemes, UAT, and coordination with the custodian CACEIS. I also built a Data Warehouse for investments there, defining the fields, table structure, and input and output controls, the kind of groundwork that makes reconciliations across multiple sources reliable rather than manual.

As senior programme director for Clearwater Analytics, I ran several parallel implementations of a SaaS record-to-report solution, including for Luxempart in Luxembourg, with monthly sponsor committees at senior management level and consolidated tracking of deliverables, milestones and resources on Monday.com. Building efficient workflows and templates for multi-entity structures is familiar ground.

Certified in Generative AI Primer (Vanderbilt, 2026) and GenAI for Account Executives (Yale, 2026), I now automate nearly all of my own consulting operations through AI agents under Claude or GPT, the same instinct I would bring to your Excel models and reporting templates as the function matures.

The B2B contract format suits my situation well. I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience would translate to the Family Office's finance function.

Best regards,
