Re : Senior Project Manager (Remote)

Arch's PMO manages projects across a matrix organization, with senior leaders expecting clear status, risk visibility, and disciplined delivery on every initiative. That combination of governance rigor and business-facing communication is where I've spent most of my career.

At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. That kind of program required weekly steering with finance, actuarial and IT stakeholders who did not share a common vocabulary, and keeping the plan credible under regulatory deadlines that don't move.

At Coface, IFRS 9 rolled out in stages over four years: successive POCs, ECL methodology, accounting schemas, UAT, coordination with the depositary CACEIS. I also built the investment Data Warehouse there, defining fields, table structure, and input/output controls. As senior programme director at Clearwater, I ran several parallel SaaS Record-to-Report implementations, including for Luxempart, with monthly sponsor committees at executive level and consolidated tracking of deliverables, milestones and resources on Monday.com. Four years at SCOR, two of them as chief transformation officer of the investment function, gave me the reinsurance-side view of these same reporting and risk questions.

I completed the full examination track of the Centre d'Études Actuarielles in 2004, which gives me technical footing on the actuarial and risk side that most project managers don't have when facilitating between business SMEs and finance or actuarial teams.

Certified in Generative AI Primer (Vanderbilt, 2026) and GenAI for Account Executives (Yale, 2026), I now automate most of my own operations through AI agents under Claude or GPT, which shapes how I think about OKR and metrics tracking on the projects I run.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience applies to Arch's project portfolio.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille
