Re : Portfolio Lead (Business Change)

Pacific Life Re is building an enterprise-wide portfolio capability from a project-reporting function into a decision-making one for the Executive Committee. That shift, from tracking projects to shaping investment choices across Lines of Business and DBS functions, is exactly the kind of mandate I look for.

At Clearwater Analytics, as senior programme director, I ran several parallel implementations of an R to R SaaS solution, each with monthly sponsor committees at executive level and a consolidated view of deliverables, milestones, and resources on a dedicated tool (Monday.com), including a Luxembourg engagement for Luxempart. That work was fully remote and hybrid by design: distributed teams, distributed sponsors, one shared source of truth for governance. It maps directly onto the portfolio taxonomy and single integrated view Pacific Life Re wants to establish.

Before that, four years at SCOR, two of them as chief transformation officer of the investment function, gave me the reinsurance context this role asks for and the discipline of prioritising change against capacity and risk rather than against whoever shouts loudest. Earlier, at CNP, I automated projected financial production and Solvency II investment reporting across €350bn in assets, an implementation delivered end to end in 18 months against a fixed regulatory deadline. That kind of delivery pressure is where portfolio governance either holds or breaks, and I've built it from both sides: as the person running the programme and as the person the Executive Committee needed clear answers from.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

As a contractor who is a non-UK Tax resident, based overseas, IR35 does not apply to me.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience applies to the portfolio operating model you're building.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille
