

QBE Insurance

July 31, 2026

Re : Programme Director - Insurance Core Platforms

QBE's Insurance Core Platforms programme sits at the point where underwriting, pricing, claims and data all have to move together, and where the pace of the wider Target Operating Model and Digital Trading work adds real delivery pressure. That is the kind of programme where clear governance and hands-on execution make the difference.

At Clearwater, as senior programme director, I ran several parallel implementations of a SaaS record-to-report solution, each with monthly sponsor committees at executive level and a single consolidated view of deliverables, milestones and resources on Monday.com. One of these engagements was for Luxempart in Luxembourg. Delivery was mostly remote and hybrid, working directly with client teams and vendor partners across time zones, which is now a standard mode of operation for me.

At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. That is the same kind of core platform build QBE is planning: a strategic vendor, a large regulated balance sheet, and a fixed delivery window.

Four years at SCOR, two of them as chief transformation officer of the investment function, gave me the habit of translating strategy into executable plans and defending them in front of executive and board-level stakeholders, in a reinsurance environment as complex and regulated as QBE's.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period. As a contractor who is a non-UK Tax resident, based overseas, IR35 does not apply to me.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience applies to the ICP programme.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille