

Robert Walters

July 31, 2026

Re : Senior Business Change Manager (Reinsurance)

Robert Walters places senior change professionals directly inside reinsurance transformation programmes, and this role sits exactly where I've spent the last two decades: reinsurance, regulatory pressure, and multi-year change delivery across finance and IT.

Four years at SCOR, including two as chief transformation officer of the investment function, gave me direct exposure to reinsurance change at group level, coordinating finance, actuarial, and risk stakeholders through a multi-year programme. At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months, with sponsor-level governance and impact assessments across people, process, and systems. At Coface, IFRS 9 rolled out in stages over four years: successive POCs, ECL methodology, accounting schemes, UAT, and coordination with the depositary CACEIS, alongside the creation of an investment Data Warehouse (fields, table structure, input and output controls). Each of these programmes required the same discipline this role asks for: readiness assessment, stakeholder alignment across conflicting demands, and end-to-end ownership of the roll-out plan, in both Agile and Waterfall settings.

More recently, as senior programme director at Clearwater Analytics, I ran several parallel SaaS R to R implementations, including for the Luxembourg client Luxempart, with monthly sponsor committees at executive level and consolidated tracking of deliverables, milestones, and resources on Monday.com, entirely in a hybrid, remote-first setup. Reinsurance is where I want this experience applied next.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period. As a contractor who is a non-UK Tax resident, based overseas, IR35 does not apply to me.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience maps to the current programme's stakeholder landscape.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille