I bring 25 years of finance and insurance expertise directly applicable to NAV production and fund accounting at scale. My background spans regulatory reporting, operational transformation, and process design—precisely the disciplines that underpin accurate, compliant fund accounting.

My last two assignments sit at the core of what this role demands. At a €40B+ insurance group, I rebuilt the regulatory reporting operating model, which meant designing end-to-end data validation, reconciliation workflows, and control frameworks for 200+ complex portfolios. We cut NAV publication errors by 68% and halved SLA breaches. The second engagement, at a mid-market asset manager, involved restructuring their fund accounting team for a 3x asset growth while implementing tolerance controls and automating position reconciliation in Excel and SQL—work that directly mirrors your NAV Production priorities.

I've handled corporate actions, cash reconciliation, and complex instrument pricing (equities, bonds, FX, derivatives) across multiple fund structures. I build traceable audit trails and solve for the messy reality: systems that don't talk to each other, data quality issues that block publication, and teams that need both process discipline and clear escalation protocols.

One honest gap: I've been independent for the last three years (expert consultant, not full-time employed). I work fast and self-directed—an asset in interim or project roles. For a permanent seat, I'm genuinely interested in proving fit through a short contract or extended trial before commitment.

I'm based in France but open to Wroclaw and a structured transition. The role's focus on accuracy, compliance, and mentoring other accountants aligns with how I work best.
