Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm applying for the Chef de Projet role at CNP Assurances Protection Sociale because my profile directly fills what you need: someone who can frame complex initiatives clearly, align stakeholders across finance, operations, and IT, and deliver on schedule within budget constraints.

Over 25 years in insurance and finance, I've led program delivery in regulated environments where clarity on scope, risk, and governance isn't optional—it's how you survive. Most recently, I've managed cross-functional projects in transformation and finance redesign, working upstream with sponsors and downstream with technical teams to ensure benefit realization. I'm comfortable writing the note de cadrage that actually sticks, defining requirements that don't shift halfway through, and catching the gaps before they become delays.

Specifically: I led a regulatory reporting transformation covering 12 business lines, rebuilt control frameworks for three finance functions, and delivered process redesigns on time through structured governance and honest conversation about constraints. Numbers matter—I've managed budgets from €200k to €2M+ and tracked them without surprise.

One reality: I'm currently independent through Expert Zone Advisory. I'm not looking for a permanent seat right now, but a well-scoped 12–18 month mission where I can own delivery and build something that lasts is exactly where I add the most value. If the CDD duration and scope align with that, we should talk.

I'm available to discuss how I approach project framing and risk management. You can reach me at +33 6 64 89 09 43 or xro@xavier-robitaille.com.

Yours sincerely,

Xavier Robitaille
