

Xavier Robitaille · xro@xavier-robitaille.com · +33 6 64 89 09 43

I bring 25 years of insurance and finance expertise to roles where technical depth, regulatory rigor, and delivery discipline matter most. I've built my career solving problems at the intersection of complex finance transformations, PMO governance, and stakeholder alignment—the exact spot where projects either crystallize or derail.

My last two engagements show the pattern. I led a regulatory reporting overhaul for a €15B+ insurer, redesigning the entire control framework and cutting month-end close time by 35% while embedding new IFRS 17 requirements. Before that, I managed a three-year operating model transformation across Finance, Actuariat, and Operations—30+ process changes, zero scope creep, delivered on budget. Both required me to translate between CFO expectations, IT constraints, and technical risk teams without losing momentum.

I work best on high-stakes missions where clarity and execution rhythm prevent things from unraveling. I'm structured, I push back when the plan isn't sound, and I get teams moving when consensus isn't enough.

I've built my practice as a freelance consultant, which gives me flexibility and skin in the game. If your need is a permanent role, that's a conversation worth having—the right mission matters more to me than the structure.

Let's talk about what you're trying to fix. My calendar is open: calendly.com/xrobitaille/30min, or reach me at xro@xavier-robitaille.com.