Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm writing to express my interest in the Finance Project Manager position for Transformation AP/P2P/R2R at Antal Poland.

With 25 years in insurance and finance, I've spent the last decade delivering complex process transformation programmes in precisely these domains. I've led end-to-end P2P and AP redesigns in shared services environments, managing stakeholder alignment across Finance, Procurement, Operations, and IT—the mix you need to unblock delivery.

What sets me apart: I combine hands-on process design with real PMO discipline. Last year, I managed a multi-workstream finance operating model redesign for a €2B+ insurance group, coordinating across three countries and eight functional teams. I structured governance forums, owned the PID and commercial compliance framework, and drove risk/dependency tracking that kept us on schedule despite regulatory changes mid-project. Earlier, I delivered an AP transformation in a GBS environment where I redesigned vendor management protocols and trained 40+ offshore resources—the change management and process improvement work you mention directly.

I'm PRINCE2 certified and fluent in waterfall and agile hybrid delivery. Documentation, stakeholder management, and clear communication are how I operate; I default to transparency when issues emerge and solve them directly rather than escalate theatrically.

One honest note: I'm currently structured as an independent consultant (Expert Zone Advisory). I'm entirely open to full-time remote employment from Poland and can mobilise immediately. If there's preference for direct hire status or a specific contract structure, I'm worth discussing it.

I'd welcome a brief call to explore whether my delivery style and experience match what you're building.

Best regards,
Xavier Robitaille
