I bring 25 years in insurance and finance—deep technical expertise paired with the ability to move complex programs across misaligned stakeholders. I work best on high-stakes transformations where regulatory constraints, operational reality, and delivery pressure intersect. That's where I add the most value.

Recent proof: led a complete finance operating model redesign for a mid-cap insurer—rebuilt close processes, control frameworks, and reporting infrastructure across three entities. Delivered on time, under budget, and positioned them for regulatory audit. Before that, managed a €40M system migration program as interim Finance Director, keeping CFO and IT aligned while navigating tight compliance windows.

I operate as a senior interim consultant, not a permanent hire. That matters because you get someone who brings external perspective, moves fast, and doesn't get caught in internal politics. It also means I'm selective—I take on work where I can genuinely impact the outcome.

Let's talk if you have a mission with real complexity and real deadline pressure. I'm available to start quickly and happy to discuss scope and terms.
