Re : Manager to Senior Manager - Asset and Wealth Management Consulting - Strategy and Organisation (M/F)

Ailancy Luxembourg is scaling its Asset and Wealth Management practice at a point where clients need more than advice: they need someone who can define the Target Operating Model and then stay in the room to make it real. That combination, strategy work that survives contact with implementation, is where I've spent the last 25 years, entirely in insurance and in finance.

At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. At Coface, IFRS 9 rolled out in stages over four years: successive POCs, ECL methodology, accounting schemes, testing, coordination with the custodian CACEIS, alongside building a Data Warehouse for investments (fields, table structure, input and output controls). More recently, as senior programme director at Clearwater Analytics, I ran several parallel implementations of a R to R SaaS solution, with monthly sponsor committees at senior management level and consolidated tracking of deliverables, milestones and resources on a dedicated tool (Monday.com), including for a Luxembourg client, Luxempart. That work was hybrid by design, and I'm comfortable running governance and delivery remotely when the project calls for it, while being on-site with clients as often as needed, which fits the way Ailancy's Luxembourg office operates.

Building a practice is also part of what I bring: at Primexis, I created the insurance business unit from scratch, 20 people, 10 clients, €3m in revenue, and sat on the executive committee. That experience of turning market opportunity into a functioning team maps directly onto the business case and new business model work this role asks for.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this background applies to Ailancy's current Asset and Wealth Management mandates.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille
