Re : Divisional Finance Officer Continental Europe

Modernising Finance across Continental Europe while owning the CE P&L, managing regional cost bases, and supporting the shift toward better data and analytics is a demanding brief. It sits at the intersection of business partnering, financial control, and transformation, which is exactly the kind of mandate I look for.

At CNP Assurances, I rebuilt the investment accounting production chain under Solvency II constraints, covering 350 billion euros in assets under management, delivered on an 18-month timeline. That work required close coordination with Actuarial, Risk, and IT, similar to the cross-functional partnering this role demands with Underwriting, Pricing, and Claims. On another mission, I redesigned the closing process for a mid-size insurer, cutting the fast-close cycle and strengthening the control framework around IFRS 9 and IFRS 17 reporting, work directly relevant to the Sarbanes-level governance and executive reporting this role requires. I have also led finance systems transformation projects, from SimCorp Dimension to Clearwater Analytics implementations, working alongside teams improving data quality and reporting automation, which maps closely to the finance data transformation piece of this role.

My exposure has been mostly on the investment and technical accounting side rather than direct P&L ownership across a multi-country commercial structure, though the underlying discipline (planning, forecasting, variance analysis) is the same skill set.

I currently work as an independent consultant but I am open to a permanent position, either directly or following an initial mission period. Happy to discuss over a call.
