I bring 25 years of insurance and finance expertise—the kind you need when transformation projects demand both technical rigor and executive alignment. I've spent my entire career at the intersection of regulatory requirements, operational complexity, and delivery pressure, which is where most initiatives either succeed or stall.

In my last two mandates, I led a complete finance operating model redesign for a €3B+ insurance group (8-month programme, 12 stakeholder workstreams) and rebuilt their regulatory reporting infrastructure post-acquisition—moving from 47 manual handoffs to 8 automated feeds. I don't just understand process; I know how to translate between Finance, Actuariat, IT, and Risk in ways that stick.

What I do best: clarify the non-negotiable from the negotiable, design solutions that actually work operationally (not just on paper), and drive delivery when timelines matter. I work comfortably as interim Finance Manager, PMO lead, or senior Business Analyst—role titles matter less than impact.

The honest part: I'm structured as an independent consultant (Expert Zone Advisory SAS), which suits project-based mandates and interim placements better than permanent roles. If that fits your need, we should talk.

Let's connect—30 minutes to see if there's a real fit.
