I bring 25 years of insurance and finance experience directly aligned with your transformation mandate. I've spent my entire career at the intersection of finance operations, regulatory compliance, and technology delivery—exactly where large-scale transformation lives or dies.

I've led comparable initiatives: redesigning month-end close processes for a major insurer (cut cycle time 40%, improved data integrity, embedded SOX controls), building PMO governance frameworks that scaled across 15+ simultaneous transformation workstreams, and translating technical solutions into finance workflows that actually stick. I know how to move between Finance, IT, and Data teams without losing the business case. I've shaped system designs with technical teams while keeping finance requirements crisp and auditable.

What matters for this role: I don't run transformations that look good on paper. I focus on adoption, embedded controls, and measurable business value—the parts that usually fail. I've driven process standardization and automation where it mattered, and I'm genuinely interested in where AI and advanced analytics fit into finance operations, not as hype but as practical tools.

One reality: I'm positioned as a senior freelance consultant, not a full-time employee. For a 12-month contract with clear scope and leadership ownership, that's a fit. For a path to permanent, it would need open conversation.

I'm based in France but I've worked across Europe and managed distributed teams. Dublin hybrid works.

I'd welcome a conversation about what you need from the first 90 days and how I can accelerate your transformation roadmap.
