I bring 25 years of insurance and finance expertise—the kind that matters when you need to move fast without breaking compliance or stakeholder trust. I've spent my career at the intersection of technical depth, regulatory reality, and delivery pressure, which means I know how to untangle the knots where finance, actuarial, and IT actually collide.

My last two roles show the pattern. I restructured the finance operating model for a €2B+ insurance group—rewired processes, redesigned controls, rebuilt the closing cycle from scratch. Cut month-end close from 8 days to 4, cut errors by 65%. Before that, I ran PMO for a major transformation program across three business units, keeping a complex program on track while managing conflicting priorities between the CFO office and the board. The work was part technical project management, part translator between worlds that don't naturally speak the same language.

I know the reality of your situation better than a typical consultant because I've lived it from the inside—I've had skin in the game. I'm independent now, which means I move with focus and ownership. I also won't pretend this is a perfect fit for a permanent role; my energy is highest on defined missions where I can see the finish line.

Let's talk about what you're trying to fix. Pick a time on my calendar or call me directly.
