

Head of Financial Reporting

Re : De nouvelles offres d'emploi correspondent à vos préférences.

Tokio Marine HCC evaluates and manages risk like no one else in the industry, and leading financial reporting across its European legal entities, with direct Board and Audit Committee exposure, is the mandate I want next.

At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. That work combined regulatory reporting and technical accounting judgment, the same combination this role covers for UK GAAP, US GAAP and Solvency UK.

At Coface, I rolled out IFRS 9 in stages over four years: successive POCs, ECL methodology, accounting schemes, UAT, and coordination with the depositary, CACEIS. I also built a Data Warehouse for investments there, covering field definitions, table structure, and input and output controls, and led a team of 16. At SCOR, I spent four years, two of them as chief transformation officer of the investment function, engaging directly with Finance, Risk and Actuarial stakeholders at leadership level, the same stakeholder management this position needs.

As senior programme director for Clearwater, I ran several parallel R to R SaaS implementations, including for Luxempart, with monthly sponsor committees at general management level and consolidated milestone and resource tracking on Monday.com. Running complex regulated change with Board-level visibility is what a European financial reporting function under audit scrutiny needs.

Certified in Generative AI Primer (Vanderbilt, 2026) and GenAI for Account Executives (Yale, 2026), I now automate most of my consulting work through AI agents under Claude or GPT, directly relevant to the automation and process standardisation this role calls for.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this reporting and governance experience applies to TMHCC's European entities.

Best regards,
