Dear RSM France Hiring Team,

I'm reaching out because your Consultant Transformation Finance role in insurance aligns precisely with where I add the most value: at the intersection of technical complexity, regulatory constraint, and delivery pressure.

For 25 years, I've worked exclusively in insurance and finance. My last three roles—interim Finance Manager at a tier-1 insurer, PMO lead on a €15M regulatory reporting platform migration, and senior business analyst redesigning close processes across multiple business lines—taught me that transformation succeeds when you marry technical rigor with clarity around what actually matters to the business. I've spent most of that time in the exact seat RSM needs filled: advising CFOs and their teams on accounting process redesign, ERP implementation (SAP, Oracle), regulatory compliance, and the human side of large changes.

On your CFO Advisory team, I'd bring immediate credibility with finance and actuarial stakeholders. I've managed closing redesigns that cut month-end timelines by 30%, led teams through complex policy accounting changes, and built controls frameworks that pass audit scrutiny. I work well in collaborative, fast-moving environments and have never needed much scaffolding—I'd own my client relationships and delivery milestones.

One candid note: I've been self-employed for three years through Expert Zone Advisory. I'm seeking a return to team-based work and the structure of a firm like RSM. I'm genuinely excited about the growth culture you describe and the mix of autonomy and mentorship.

I'm ready to talk through how my background fits your insurance clients' most pressing transformation challenges.

Best regards,
Xavier Robitaille
