Dear Capco Hiring Team,

I bring 25 years of hands-on experience in financial services transformation—exactly what you need for this role. My background spans insurance and asset management operations, regulatory reporting, and program delivery. I've spent the last decade redesigning front-to-back processes, building target operating models, and translating business complexity into executable technical blueprints.

Two recent engagements prove the fit. At a major European insurer, I led a complete overhaul of their fund administration lifecycle—analysis through implementation. That included process mapping across trade, settlement, and reporting; stakeholder alignment across Finance, Operations, and IT; and hands-on migration support. The second: PMO leadership on a cross-border regulatory reporting transformation where I bridged business requirements with technical teams to deliver a compliant, scalable model on time.

I understand the Capital Markets and Wealth Management operating environment. Fund lifecycle complexities, trade workflows, regulatory constraints—these aren't abstractions for me. I've done the work of translating them into operating models and change roadmaps that actually stick.

One honest note: I've worked as an independent consultant and interim manager for the past several years, not in permanent corporate roles. That's deliberate—it lets me add value exactly where you have the most critical need, then step back. I'm genuinely interested in a permanent position with Capco because your projects matter, your culture values ownership, and the work at the intersection of finance, technology, and operations is where I do my best thinking.

I'm based in the Paris area and fully mobile for Frankfurt or Munich. Happy to discuss how my background maps to your current pipeline.

Best,

Xavier Robitaille
