Re : Strategic Project Manager (Finance) - Remote

Turning financial data into decisions that hold up under audit, while running the ROI models and the reporting compliance behind them, is exactly the kind of dual demand that breaks a lot of project managers who are strong on one side but not the other.

That combination is where I've spent 25 years working. On investment accounting, I've designed IFRS 9 ECL methodologies, amortized cost treatments, and sub-ledger accounting schemes, then taken them from design through to production on SimCorp Dimension and Clearwater Analytics, working directly with Finance, Actuarial, IT, and Risk teams to get sign-off across all four. On program delivery, I've been brought in to take over stalled finance transformation initiatives, rebuild the governance and roadmap, and redesign closing processes to hit fast-close targets under Solvency II and IFRS reporting constraints. On data and migration, I've run full accounting data migrations and GL/sub-ledger interface cutovers, including suspense account clean-up, UAT cycles, and requirement specs (CDC), with automated journal entry generation built in VBA.

My experience is entirely in insurance and finance, not the technology or internet sector this role sits in. I'd like to walk through how that maps to your current initiatives, if you're open to a call.
