Re : Senior Transformation Leader with Insurance experience

Stabilising a platform estate after acquisitions, while moving the operating model toward AI-enabled processes, is a different problem from a standard modernisation programme. It means governing change across systems that were never designed to sit together.

I've spent 25 years in insurance and finance transformation, most of it at the intersection of finance, actuarial, IT and operations. At CNP, I rebuilt the investment accounting production line under Solvency II constraints, 350 billion euros in assets under management, delivered in 18 months, on time. That work required integrating core finance systems with settlement and reporting platforms under strict regulatory scrutiny, the same discipline your estate needs across policy, claims and settlement. On the systems side, I led SimCorp Dimension and Clearwater Analytics implementations end to end, from design through UAT to production, managing vendor relationships and contractual negotiation throughout. Both projects ran on governance fundamentals your brief lists directly: business cases, benefits realisation, RAID, executive reporting to non-technical stakeholders.

My PMP certification (2025) formalises what I'd already been doing for two decades. I don't have direct Lloyd's or London market experience, my domain depth is investment accounting and regulatory reporting rather than broking or delegated authority, and I'd want to be clear about that upfront rather than let it surface later.

Hybrid work is standard practice for me. At Clearwater, I ran the entire implementation remotely with distributed teams across time zones. As a contractor who is a non-UK Tax resident, based overseas, IR35 does not apply to me.

Happy to walk through specifics on a call.
