Re : Principal/Senior Principal Investment Accounting Solution Consultant – IAS Value Team

Building a dedicated Value Team for Accounting from scratch, on SimCorp One, without an existing playbook to fall back on, is a different problem than staffing a standard delivery: it needs someone who can define the accounting standards as the platform gets shaped, not just apply them.

I've done that work directly on SimCorp Dimension: taking investment accounting solutions from design through to production, covering the sub-ledger for securities, GL structures and chart of accounts, and the reporting layer that sits on top. On a data migration and interface cutover, I owned the UAT cycle and built the OD generation in VBA that let the team clear legacy suspense accounts before go-live, rather than carrying them forward. On the regulatory side, I've worked IFRS 9 classification and ECL methodology and IFRS 17 alongside Solvency II reporting (SCR, ORSA, QRT), so financial reporting requirements aren't a layer bolted on after the accounting design; they're part of it from the start.

I haven't worked on Murex or CRD, so my platform depth is specifically SimCorp Dimension rather than a broader survey of the market. What I bring is 25 years entirely in insurance and finance accounting, which is what the stream lead role and the stakeholder work across Value Streams actually need.

Happy to walk through any of this on a call.
