I bring 25 years in insurance and finance transformation—the exact intersection where technical depth, regulatory constraints, and delivery pressure collide. Most teams get stuck there. I don't.

My value sits in three places: first, I can translate between Finance, Actuariat, and IT without losing precision. Second, I deliver on timeline and governance, not just strategy. Third, I solve the problems that matter—closing redesigns, control frameworks, operating model shifts—where one misstep costs real money.

On my last two assignments, I restructured the PMO for a €2B+ insurance group (€340M in project exposure, 18-month runway) and redesigned their regulatory reporting workflow, cutting month-end close by 6 days. Before that, I led AMOA for a mutual's digital finance transformation—the kind of work where you're holding three competing stakeholder groups in alignment while the regulatory ground shifts underneath.

I should be direct: I'm structured as independent consultant through Expert Zone Advisory SAS. That gives flexibility and speed, but it's different from hiring full-time. If you need embedded delivery and don't mind that model, I move fast and stay until the job is genuinely done.

Let's talk if the scope fits. You can book 30 minutes on my calendar or reach me at xro@xavier-robitaille.com.
