Dear LHH Team,

I'm applying for the Senior Manager Consultant Life Insurance role because my background aligns directly with what you need: 25 years in insurance transformation, with specific depth in Life and Claims operations.

My last three years have been spent as an independent consultant running Expert Zone Advisory. I've led strategic delivery on complex transformation programs—operationalizing new underwriting workflows for a €2B+ Life insurer, redesigning Claims processes to cut handling time by 35%, and designing regulatory reporting frameworks across multiple entities. I've worked across Finance, Actuariat, IT, and Operations teams simultaneously, which taught me how to keep senior stakeholders aligned when priorities conflict and timelines tighten.

I know Life Insurance. I understand the technical landscape: product complexity, solvency constraints, distribution channels, claims reserve volatility. I've managed teams through transformation initiatives where execution discipline and clear communication meant the difference between delivering on time and missing regulatory deadlines.

The gap worth naming: I've been freelance for three years after 22 years in corporate roles. That's been intentional—I wanted control over project selection and client relationships. LHH and Accenture offer something different: scale, structure, and the chance to lead larger programs with institutional backing. I'm ready to move back into that environment, especially if the role offers flexibility and genuine autonomy in how I drive transformation.

I'm based in the Paris region and comfortable with the Madrid hybrid model. My English is fluent—I've led multinational teams and reported to C-suite stakeholders across Europe.

I'd welcome a conversation about how my experience maps to your client pipeline, particularly in Life and Claims transformation.

Best,

Xavier Robitaille
