Re : Head of Finance Transformation

Running 3 transformation streams at once, cost, margin and data, while wiring automation and AI into decision-making for a CFO under growth pressure, is a demanding brief that needs someone who has actually delivered change at that scale, not just planned it.

At CNP, I rebuilt investment accounting production under Solvency II constraints, 350 billion euros of assets, delivered in 18 months, on time. That included redesigning the sub-ledger and control structure that still feeds regulatory and management reporting without manual patching, which is close to the reporting and controls improvement this role is asking for. On a separate mandate, I led the migration of accounting interfaces, cleared several years of suspense accounts, and built VBA-driven journal entry construction that cut manual reconciliation work. I also redesigned a closing process to shorten the cycle and reduce control exceptions, tracking the change through KPIs rather than assumptions. I've implemented SimCorp Dimension end to end, from design through go-live, working directly with IT and external vendors, which is the same kind of digital finance partnership this mandate needs. Across all of these, the common thread is turning a transformation roadmap into something finance teams actually run day to day.

Happy to walk through how this maps onto your 3 workstreams on a short call.
