Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm writing to express my interest in the Senior Statutory Accountant role at IGA Talent Solutions.

I bring 25 years of specialist experience in insurance accounting and finance transformation, with a track record of delivering complex statutory reporting and audit-ready documentation under regulatory pressure. My background sits precisely where this role needs it: qualified (French CA equivalent), Big 4 audit training, and hands-on delivery of legal entity statutory accounts for insurance entities, including IFRS 17 implementation and UK regulatory compliance.

In my last two assignments, I led full-cycle statutory closing and external audit preparation for a €2bn+ European insurer, owning legal entity accounts across three jurisdictions, IFRS 17 transition, and direct auditor liaison with Deloitte on technical queries and working paper standards. I've also redesigned audit preparation workflows to cut closure timelines by 30% while improving evidence quality—exactly the operational discipline this role demands. I'm equally comfortable producing Board-level documentation and sitting across from senior auditors to resolve technical interpretations.

The structure here suits me well: a defined 6-month contract, hybrid setup in London, and a role that is purely execution-focused rather than strategic. I work best on high-visibility, technically demanding assignments where clarity and delivery matter most.

I'm based in France but relocating to the UK this autumn, so I'm ready to start immediately. I hold a valid passport and have worked across multiple UK insurance clients during my consulting career.

I'd welcome a conversation to confirm my IFRS 17 depth and audit experience meet your specific requirements.

Best regards,

Xavier Robitaille
