

Senior Finance Transformation Leader

Re : De nouvelles offres d'emploi correspondent à vos préférences.

Finance Transformation practices win mandates when they can show programmes actually delivered end to end, not just designed on paper. This role calls for someone who can lead large-scale Finance Transformation programmes, advise CFOs and Finance Directors on operating models and technology, and bring consulting-led delivery together with business development, ideally with exposure to insurance, banking or financial services. That combination is where I have spent 25 years, in insurance and in finance.

At CNP, I automated the projected financial production across asset classes (P&L, cash flows) and the Solvency II investment reporting: €350bn in assets, SimCorp Dimension from design to go-live, delivered in 18 months. At Coface, I rolled out IFRS 9 in stages over four years: successive POCs, ECL methodology, accounting schemes, testing, coordination with the custodian CACEIS, and I built the investments Data Warehouse (fields, table structure, input and output controls). As senior programme director at Clearwater Analytics, I ran several parallel implementations of an R2R SaaS solution, with monthly sponsor committees at senior leadership level and consolidated tracking of deliverables, milestones and resources on Monday.com, including for the Luxembourg client Luxempart. I spent four years at SCOR, two of them as chief transformation officer of the investment function.

Business development is the other half of the brief. At Primexis, I built the Insurance business unit from scratch: 20 people, 10 clients, €3m in revenue, and a seat on the Comex. That is the same posture this role needs on the consulting side: building a practice, not just staffing a programme.

I operate as an independent consultant today. Nevertheless, I am perfectly open to a permanent role, directly or after an initial engagement period.

I would be happy to discuss how this experience applies to the Finance Transformation mandates your client is running.

Best regards,
