Lettre de motivation

Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm applying for the Chef de Projet AMOA role at Groupama Centre-Atlantique because I've spent 25 years bridging exactly this gap—between business complexity and technical delivery—in insurance and financial services.

Your role requires someone who can pilot digital projects end-to-end, translate business needs into technical solutions, and move things forward in a shifting environment. That's where I add the most value. I've led similar AMOA missions at scale: structured stakeholder workshops across regional and national teams, formalized requirements for 15+ concurrent initiatives, managed test phases and UAT cycles, and secured sign-off on critical deliverables under regulatory and business pressure. On a major transformation program, I documented business requirements for a legacy system replacement, coordinated with three business lines simultaneously, and delivered the compliance and functional testing roadmap that ensured a clean go-live.

I work best where clarity, discipline, and real delivery matter—exactly what digital transformation demands.

One thing to be clear about: I've worked as an independent consultant and business owner for the past few years. I'm genuinely interested in moving into a stable, long-term role at an organization with real digital ambition. Groupama's commitment to customer experience and regional scale appeals to me. Niort's a reasonable location, and I'm open to the working arrangements that make sense for the team.

I'd welcome a conversation about how my experience in insurance transformation fits what you're building.

Best regards,
Xavier Robitaille
