I bring 25 years of insurance and finance expertise—specifically in transformation, regulatory reporting, and programme delivery where technical rigour meets execution discipline. That combination is rare, and it's where I add the most value: complex, visible mandates that need clarity and accountability.

I've spent the last decade as a senior interim consultant rebuilding finance operating models, redesigning closing processes, and leading PMO teams through major regulatory changes. Most recently, I drove a complete refactor of consolidated reporting workflows for a mid-sized insurer—cutting month-end close from 18 days to 8, embedding new controls, and training the permanent team to own it. Before that, I led actuarial-finance alignment on a product transformation that unlocked €12M in annual margin improvement.

I'm structured as an independent consultant (Expert Zone Advisory SAS), which means I move fast and own delivery end-to-end. The tradeoff: I'm not looking for permanent employment. If this role is truly interim or contract-based, that's a fit. If it's CDI-track, I should be honest upfront—I prefer the flexibility and focus that come with project-based work.

Let's talk if the mandate is real, the timeline is clear, and you need someone who'll cut through noise and deliver. You can reach me at xro@xavier-robitaille.com or grab 30 minutes here: calendly.com/xrobitaille/30min.
