Re : Transformation Program Director

Standardizing a Benelux P&C core platform while keeping a jointly-owned COO/CTO governance structure aligned with group strategy is not a straightforward delivery mandate. It calls for someone who has run the mobilisation phase of a transformation and can hold multi-vendor delivery together while the target architecture is still being shaped.

My track record here is in insurance finance and investment transformation rather than P&C claims or underwriting, but the delivery mechanics are the same problem set. At CNP, I rebuilt investment accounting production under Solvency II constraints across 350 billion euros in assets under management, delivered in 18 months, on schedule, with governance that had to satisfy both internal stakeholders and regulatory scrutiny. That required the same skill this role needs: translating a target operating model into a working plan across teams that don't naturally speak the same language, technical, actuarial, and business. I've also led core system implementations end to end, from design through cutover to production, including SimCorp Dimension deployments where the hard part was never the software but the multi-party coordination around it.

I haven't run a P&C-specific transformation, so the product harmonisation side of this brief is new ground for me; the programme leadership and multi-vendor governance side is not.

I've worked hybrid setups for years, most recently at Clearwater, and I'm comfortable running distributed governance across Brussels-based and remote stakeholders. Happy to walk through the CNP programme in detail if useful.
