I combine 25 years in insurance and finance with the rare ability to move complex transformation work from strategy to results. I solve problems at the intersection of technical requirement, regulatory constraint, and organizational complexity—where clarity and execution discipline matter most.

My last two engagements show the pattern. At a €15B+ insurance group, I rebuilt their finance operating model across three entities, redesigned the monthly closing (cut cycle time 40%), and implemented controls that passed a full regulatory audit first time. At a mid-cap insurer, I ran a two-year PMO for enterprise platform migration (€8M+ scope), aligning actuarial, IT, and finance stakeholders, and delivered on time despite a regulatory pivot mid-project.

I work as an independent consultant, which means you get someone who moves fast and carries accountability. The trade-off is straightforward: you won't have me full-time on payroll, but you'll have someone who's done this exact work before and doesn't need onboarding.

I'm open to interim CFO roles, transformation programmes, PMO leadership, or hybrid AMOA positions—anywhere the work sits between finance, actuarial, and operations. If there's a fit, let's talk. You can reach me at xro@xavier-robitaille.com or book time directly: calendly.com/xrobitaille/30min.
