I'm a senior consultant with 25 years in insurance and finance, and I've spent the last decade delivering complex transformation programs exactly like Samsara.

What you need for this role is someone who can translate strategy into execution while keeping disparate stakeholders aligned. That's my core strength. I've led multi-country PMO functions through product launches, process redesigns, and regulatory overhauls—the kind of work where governance frameworks actually stick because they're built with finance, operations, and IT in the room from day one.

At a major insurer, I managed a €50M+ transformation program across 8 countries, restructuring end-to-end claims and underwriting processes. I owned the governance layer, reported weekly to the CFO and COO, managed 15+ parallel workstreams, and delivered on time despite a mid-program scope change. More relevant: I've done this specifically in credit and protection products—I understand the operational complexity and margin sensitivity.

I know my profile is unconventional for a permanent role. I've worked as an independent consultant for the last five years, which means flexibility and deep focus, but I'm genuinely ready to anchor into a strategic, hands-on leadership position where I can build something lasting.

I'd like a conversation about how this role fits. My calendar is here: calendly.com/xrobitaille/30min. Or reach me at +33 6 64 89 09 43.
